I. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION AND OBJECTIVES

ACDI/VOCA is implementing the project entitled, Bangladesh Feed the Future Rice and Diversified crops (RDC) Activity with funding from USAID to improve food security through facilitating systemic changes that increase rural incomes. It is a five years project starting from July 13, 2016 and ending on July 12, 2021. The USD 24.5 million initiative targets 500,000 farmers from the FtF zone in southwestern Bangladesh. RDC catalyze market system changes that promote a diversified farm management approach focused on intensified production of rice and production of higher-value, nutrient-rich crops, improve food security and nutrition in the Khulna, Barisal, and southern Dhaka divisions of Bangladesh (FtF Zone). Diversified crops that RDC will initially target include: maize, oilseeds (mustard, sunflower, ground nuts and sesame) and pulses (lentils and mung bean)

RDC Objectives:
• Improved Food Security through facilitating systemic changes within market systems that increase incomes
• Increased intensification of rice and productivity improvements of diversified crops
• Increase competitiveness and inclusiveness of rice-based crop market systems.

Background Information for the RFA:
The RDC Activity is planning to work in the following agricultural sectors (select rotational crops) which fall under profitable, rice-based cropping pattern in the FtF zone:
• Rice
• Maize
• Pulses (including lentil and mungbean)
• Oilseeds (including mustard, sunflower, sesame and groundnut)
In addition, RDC will focus on the following cross cutting sectors:

- Fertilizer
- Seed treatment
- Crop Protection
- Information Communication Technology (ICT)
- Financial services
- Mechanization
- Gender
- Nutrition

The target districts under this FtF zone are: Khulna division (Jessore, Jhenaidah, Magura, Narail, Bagerhat, Khulna, Satkhira, Chuadanga, Meherpur, Kushtia), Barisal division (Barisal, Bholu, Jhalokathi, Pirojpur, Barguna, Patuakhali) and Dhaka division (Faridpur, Gopalganj, Madaripur, Rajbari, Shariatpur).

What RDC is Looking for:

As part of this program, RDC plans to collaborate with private companies/firms to address the systemic constraints faced by producers that inhibit their potential productivity, profitability and expansion in the light of the potential impacts of the COVID 19 virus has on the respective market systems.

In pursuit and support of the RDC core objectives, the project hopes to select eligible organizations to receive grants to carry out activities under the Request for Application (RFA) process and therefore RDC is inviting Private Companies interested in supporting the below mentioned objectives to submit applications:

- Enhance farmer access to inputs
- Enhance farmer access to markets
- Address constraints anticipated in light of the impact of the COVID 19 Virus in order to ensure continued food security in Bangladesh.

Illustrative Examples of COVID-19 response to food security:

Below are illustrative examples of activities/topics that could be addressed under this RFA. This is not a definitive list and other interventions may be entertained.

1. Establishment of a mobile crop trading or input retailer network in order to bring inputs closer to farmers homes while maintaining distancing protocols.

2. Sanitizing existing crop trading points or input dealer/retailers and establishing social distancing protocols alongside the availability of Personal Protective Equipment.

3. Advertising the existence of these 'safe spaces'.

4. Provision of training through local cable TV networks or utilizing digital platforms such as Apps on mobile phone networks. Combining health messaging with training initiatives.

5. Developing safe handling protocols for food trade.

Any other initiative to address the challenges posed by the COVID 19 virus and the steps taken to contain it.

B. Additional Instructions for Technical Section

Applicants should propose to activities that are results-oriented to help achieve the objectives described in Section I, Program Description. A result is a significant, intended, and measurable change in the condition of a beneficiary or a change in the host country, institutions, or other entities that will affect the beneficiary directly or indirectly. The application should demonstrate the Applicant’s good understanding of these objectives by proposing to achieve results that can be quantified and measured.

At a minimum, a results-oriented grant application should have the following three key elements:

* Identifies specific results to be achieved and identifiable strategies and processes to achieve the intended results.
* Performance management system to measure and assess the achievement of planned results. This will include baseline data and performance goals at various levels against which actual achievement can be compared.
* Responsibility for performance to determine who is accountable for achieving results

C. Additional Instructions for Budget Section

1. Applicants should propose only those costs that are necessary and reasonable to perform the activities described in the application.

2. Items of cost will be reviewed under the standards of the cost principles in the U.S. government regulation, 2 CFR 200 Subpart E.

3. Applicants should submit a budget narrative that explains and justifies the need for the costs proposed in the budget. The narrative should help the reviewer understand why an item of cost is necessary and how it will be used for the activity for which it will be incurred.

V. EVALUATION

Applications will be evaluated against the evaluation criteria in the table below.
